

King's College Demonstration Policy

All members of the King's community may participate in peaceful and orderly demonstrations where such gatherings will not interfere with the legitimate educational process or general operation of the College. All demonstrations must be registered, using the Demonstration Registration Form on the King's College website at least three business days in advance with the Vice President for Student Affairs or designee and receive written approval to proceed. Only members of the King's College community may organize and lead a demonstration.

While the campus is open to the free exchange of ideas and cherishes free speech as the foundation of academia, the College may limit the time, place, and manner of demonstrations. Demonstrations or other forms of expression may not compromise the rights of other members of the College community. Specifically, forms of expression may not discriminate against or harass individuals on the basis of race, gender, disability, age, marital status, religion, color, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, or other legally protected status.

All members of the community are expected to conduct demonstrations with dignity and courtesy. Accordingly, demonstrations on King's property shall not:

- Disrupt or interfere with educational or other activities of the King's College community
- Create a volume of sound that prevents members of the King's community from their normal activities
- Obstruct pedestrian or vehicular traffic on or to the campus
- Obstruct or restrict the free movement of persons in any part of property owned or leased by the College
- Deny the normal use of offices, classrooms, residential spaces, or other facilities to students, faculty, staff, or guests of the College
- Endanger the safety of any person or result in the defacement or destruction of property

King's College maintains the right to enforce all rules of conduct and to immediately dispatch campus security or request outside law enforcement assistance to respond to potential College policy violations and/or any criminal or violent acts.

All demonstrations must be registered, at least three business days in advance of the date of intended demonstration, with the Vice President for Student Affairs or designee and receive written approval to proceed. All applications for demonstrations will be reviewed, and all decisions will be made in writing to the applicant no later than 48 business hours after the application is submitted. Applications will receive one of three decisions: acceptance, denial, or request for additional information/request for changes. The College has the right to deny any application for a demonstration and decisions are not subject to appeal. Violation of the Demonstration Policy is subject to disciplinary action.
